

Nochebuena 2026

Christmas Eve at the Robles table, Coral Way
December 24, 2026

The plan, the way Mami taught me

Twelve at the table this year. Lucia, Valentina, Sofia and David with Mateo and Isabella, Camila, Renata, and two of Valentina's friends. One vegetarian plate for Valentina, and absolutely nothing with shellfish anywhere near her food.

To start

Croquetas de jamon. Mariquitas with mojo. Queso and guava with crackers. A tray of olives and good Spanish almonds.

The table

Lechon asado, marinated two days in sour orange, garlic and oregano, slow roasted. Black beans and white rice. Yuca con mojo. Sweet plantains, maduros. A roasted vegetable platter and a separate rice for Valentina, cooked without the pork.

Sweet

Bunuelos with anise syrup, the way Papi loved them. Flan. Turrón and Cuban coffee to finish.

To drink

A Rioja Reserva for the table and a crisp Albarino to start. Sparkling cider for the kids. Cafecito, always.

Renata is bringing the croquetas and helping with the lechon. Pick up orchids and candles Saturday. Start the marinade on the 22nd.
