On view and coming this season

Worth a visit before they close

A few shows this season lean toward the work you tend to seek out, contemporary practice, illustration, and print.

- A contemporary printmaking survey, on view through December 2026. Layered relief and intaglio work with a strong sense of texture.
- A modern poster design exhibition, opening November 2026. Type and image across a century of public design.
- An illustration and works on paper show, running into early 2027. Hand drawn process from sketch to final plate.

Member previews are listed in your monthly email. Previews are a quiet time to see a show before the weekend crowds arrive.
