Booking Rules

Anagama loading is a shared five-person job. Book yourself into the loading crew via this page. Gas reduction firings are on a first-come basis, cancellation less than seven days out forfeits the slot. Wood must be stacked and split before the loading window opens.

The anagama slot showing in the older Trello board (November 7 through November 12 loading) is no longer valid. The collective rewrote the firing protocol in July to move the autumn slot forward and free the first week of November for the open studio and collector visits.
