Re: Completed estate plan restatement, summary for your records

Dear Andrew,

It was a pleasure to complete this work with you. All documents were signed and witnessed in our office on November 10, 2025, and executed through DocuSign where appropriate. This letter summarizes what is now in place, in plain language as you requested.

1. The Andrew J. Roberts Revocable Living Trust, as restated November 10, 2025. Your home at 1528 Heatherton Lane and your taxable investment account at Edward Jones are titled to the trust. On your death the trust divides equally between Margaret (Meg) Roberts-Novak and Thomas (Tom) Roberts. The trust includes the specific provisions you asked for: Carol's garden planner, her reading chair, and her personal effects pass to Meg; your workbench, tools, and restored clocks pass as you may direct in the personal property memorandum, which you may update yourself at any time without our involvement.
2. Pour-over will, naming the trust as beneficiary of any assets outside it at your death. Meg is named executor, Tom as successor.
3. Property power of attorney, naming Meg as your agent, Tom as successor agent, effective immediately per your instruction.
4. Healthcare power of attorney and Illinois living will, naming Meg as your healthcare agent, Tom as successor, with the treatment preferences you stated. Copies have been provided to Dr. Ivers's office at your direction.
5. Beneficiary designations, confirmed directly with the institutions: Fidelity rollover IRA and the Edward Jones account name Meg and Tom as equal primary beneficiaries. The Bright Start 529 accounts you own for Lily and Sam sit outside the estate and pass by their own terms. Your BMO Harris accounts carry payable-on-death designations to match.

Original documents are held in our vault; a full copy set was delivered to you, and at your instruction a second set to Meg. Our invoice was settled on signing, with thanks. We recommend a routine review in three years, or sooner upon any significant change in circumstances. You mentioned, with characteristic understatement, that circumstances have been known to change. When they do, we are here.

Sincerely,

Margaret A. Whitfield
