3. Agenda and Discussion

- Review of the 2025 blue crab harvest and dockside price trends.
- Update on Maryland DNR pot allotment and cull ring enforcement.
- Discussion of warming water and shifting crab migration timing.
- Charter and commercial dual-use vessel insurance costs.
- Boat show outreach and the public crabcake events calendar.

4. Harvest and Price Notes

Members reported a 2025 season in line with the three-year average, with strong fall jimmies and firm dockside prices in October and November. The chapter noted the same pattern many captains track in their own catch logs, with peak bushels in June and a price recovery in the fall. The figures align with the harvest reporting captains file with DNR.

Topic	2025 Note	2026 Watch
Early season	Slow, cool water	Monitor April temps
Peak summer	Strong bushels	Heat and oxygen
Fall	Fat crabs, firm price	Hold effort
Price	Recovered in fall	Wholesale demand

5. Regulatory Update

The DNR representative reviewed the pot registration and inspection process and reminded members of the April 15 inspection deadline. Cull ring and escape panel compliance remain enforcement priorities. The chapter encouraged early scheduling of inspections to avoid the spring backlog, which matches the timeline in member license packets such as P01.
