

Galveston Bay Fishing Log

Personal | Redfish, speckled trout, flounder | Clear Creek and the bay

Log of fishing trips around Clear Lake Shores and the bay. Tide, wind, water, and what worked. Kept partly for the fun of it and partly because patterns repeat if you write them down. Nathan comes along on his weekends when the weather is right.

Trip log

Date	Spot	Tide / wind	Caught	What worked
Jan 10	Clear Creek mouth	incoming, SE 8	3 reds, 2 trout	soft plastic, slow
Jan 24	marsh drains	falling, light	5 trout	topwater at dawn
Feb 7	channel edge	incoming, SE 12	2 reds (slot)	cut mullet on bottom
Feb 18	back lake flats	low, calm	1 flounder, 3 reds	gold spoon
Feb 26	Clear Creek	incoming, S 10	4 trout, Nathan's first red	popping cork

Notes

- Reds stacked on the channel edge on the incoming, like always this time of year.
- Topwater bite shuts off once the sun is up; be on the water before light or do not bother.
- Flounder starting to show on the flats; worth watching as the water warms.
- Feb 26: Nathan landed his first slot red on the popping cork. Kept that one for the table.

Regs reminder (TX)

Red drum slot 20-28 inches, three per day, one over-slot tag. Spotted seatrout check current bag and slot before keeping. License current. Keep the measuring board and the pliers in the dry box, not on the kitchen counter where they end up.

Personal log. Always confirm current Texas bag and slot limits before keeping fish.
