This recertification keeps your Wilderness First Responder credential current for another cycle, which is required for ski patrol and search and rescue work. Please arrive with current CPR records if available so the instructor can note them on your file.

Course schedule

The recertification is a focused three day format for providers who hold a current or recently expired credential. It reviews the core of wilderness medicine and updates protocols, with heavy emphasis on hands on scenarios in realistic settings.

Day	Focus
Day one	Patient assessment, shock, and CPR update
Day two	Musculoskeletal, environmental, and wound care
Day three	Scenarios, written check, and certification

What to bring

- Current CPR and WFR cards if you have them.
- Layers for indoor and outdoor scenario work, expect to be outside.
- A small personal first aid kit and a notebook.
- Lunch and water for each day, there is a short midday break.

Policies

- Full attendance and participation in scenarios is required to recertify.
- Balance is due before the first morning, pay by card or check.
- Transfers to a later course are allowed once with notice.
- The credential issued is valid for the standard recertification interval.
