

Saved Email Thread — Grove & Gable

Exported from personal Gmail (andrea.kaminski@Finthesiss.ai). Most recent message first. 4 messages.

Thread label: Prospects/Warm • Thread id: 18e-groveandgable • Attachments: none

From: Renata Vance <renata@groveandgable.com>
To: Andrea Kaminski <andrea.kaminski@Finthesiss.ai>
Date: Wed, 3 Dec 2026 16:41 EST
Subject: Re: Grove & Gable - analytics help

Hi Andrea, thanks for the call, it really helped me think this through. I filled out your intake form a few weeks back and put down a quick one-time audit, but talking it over changed my mind. A one-off audit is not really what we need, it would tell us what is broken and then leave us to fix and maintain it alone, which is exactly the part we are bad at.

What I actually want is someone to build the dashboard, get our ad spend tied to real sales, and then stay with us through the quarter, walk us through the numbers each month, and adjust as the spring season ramps up. So let us plan on a three month engagement rather than the one-off. I am comfortable with a fixed fee of 6,000 dollars for the full three months if that works on your end, and I would rather agree the whole scope up front than nickel and dime it.

We would want to start once you are officially open for business, no rush before then. A few things we care about, in case it shapes your thinking. First, we run Shopify and some Meta and Google ads, and we cannot tell which campaigns actually drive sales versus browsing. Second, my store manager Paul needs a view he can open himself without calling me. Third, we get slammed from March into May and I want the reporting to hold up under that.

Let me know what you need from us to get going, and whether the three month shape and the number work for you. Thanks again. Best, Renata Vance, Owner, Grove & Gable, Worthington OH.

From: Andrea Kaminski <andrea.kaminski@Finthesiss.ai>
To: Renata Vance <renata@groveandgable.com>
Date: Tue, 2 Dec 2026 19:05 EST
Subject: Re: Grove & Gable - analytics help

Thanks for the time today. Quick recap of what I heard so we are aligned. You want ad spend tied to actual sales, one dashboard your team will actually open, and a monthly read that holds up as spring ramps.

That is very doable. I am finishing setting the practice up properly so I can take the work on the right way, contract, clean books, the works. Once I am open I will send you a scoped option rather than an hourly guess. If anything changes on your end in the meantime, just reply here.

From: Renata Vance <renata@groveandgable.com>
To: Andrea Kaminski <andrea.kaminski@Finthesiss.ai>
Date: Mon, 24 Nov 2026 10:20 EST
Subject: Re: Grove & Gable - analytics help

Perfect, a call works. I am free most mornings this coming week. Talking through it will be easier than typing. Thank you for being flexible on timing, I know you are not fully open yet.

From: Renata Vance <renata@groveandgable.com>

To: Andrea Kaminski <andrea.kaminski@Finthesiss.ai>

Date: Sun, 15 Nov 2026 09:12 EST

Subject: Grove & Gable - analytics help

Hi Andrea, I filled out your intake form just now. We are a home-goods shop in Worthington, fourteen people, and I cannot tell which of our campaigns actually drives sales. I put a rough budget and a one-time audit on the form but honestly I am not sure that is the right shape, happy to be told otherwise. Could we talk? Thanks, Renata.

End of thread. Note to self: the form still shows her old one-off audit and the smaller number. The email is where she landed. Use the email.