Version increments on every re-delivery (v1, v2, etc.). Strict enforcement: automated intake pipeline SP-INTAKE-v3 rejects any file that deviates from the pattern.

Embedded ICC profile required on every file. Untagged files are rejected at the automated intake pipeline (SP-INTAKE-v3).

Metadata: IPTC Creator, Copyright (© 2027 Jesse Page), Caption (recipe name and chapter), and Keywords (chapter slug + tag column value) embedded on every file.

3. Payment milestones (the full 4-payment ladder)

Milestone	Date	Amount	Status	Rail	Notes

Total photo fee		$15,000			PayPal-rail throughout per agent policy

All payments on the PayPal rail to jesse.page@Finthesiss.ai. Payments hit Jesse PayPal within 5 business days of Rebecca acceptance email per the Apr 2026 contract.

PayPal processing fee (2.99 percent + $0.49 US) is absorbed by Jesse on the receive side; commission to Tomas Herrera is calculated on the gross MINUS PayPal fee per the agent carve-out policy (see A02 Tomas Q3 commission statement).

4. Dairy-free tag column requirement (publisher allergen index)

Every recipe must be tagged Dairy or Dairy-Free for the publisher inclusive-eating index. Tag column must appear in the menu spreadsheet appendix and on the recipe-page header in the published book.

This is a publisher-side editorial standard; the cookbook is indexed for the dietary-need reader segment and the dairy / dairy-free tag is the load-bearing field for the back-of-book allergen index. Salt + Press has shipped 9 cookbooks with this index since 2022 and the format is locked.

Generic dairy / dairy-free label. Two allowed values, exact spelling. Any variant (nondairy, plant-based, milk-free, vegan) is rejected at the automated intake and must be normalized to Dairy or Dairy-Free before re-submission.

5. Photo release rider summary

Every identifiable face in any final select requires a signed Photo Release Rider (SP-PRR-2024-v2). Rider templates provided by Salt + Press legal (Lena Wright); Jesse circulates at shoot, returns countersigned PDFs to Lena via secure DocuShare link by tranche selects-due date.

Chef Ana Moreira's release is on file (executed Apr 2026, covers all shoot dates through publication).

Estrela kitchen staff (3 line cooks, 1 pastry chef, 1 dishwasher) require individual releases for any in-frame appearance. Jesse coordinates with Ana for shoot-day signatures.

Estrela diners (any frame including dining-room patrons): consent at point of capture verbal, written release post-shoot via Lena's template. Recommend Jesse avoid frames with identifiable diners where possible to minimize the release tracking overhead.

Hand models (if any close-up hand shots feature non-Ana hands, e.g. Jesse hand in process frames): standard hand-model release SP-HMR-2024-v1 applies; no name credit required in the book.

Minor releases (under 18 in frame): NOT permitted in this cookbook per Salt + Press policy. Re-shoot any frame featuring a minor without a guardian-signed release; default is no minors in frame.

6. Quality control and proof process

Salt + Press production reviews each tranche within 5 business days of selects-due date. Round 1 notes returned via email; Round 2 (if needed) via shared Dropbox markup.

Color proofs run twice: once on coated stock (final book paper), once on standard uncoated proofer for internal review. Jesse participates in the final coated proof review only (no time budget for the uncoated round).

Reject threshold: more than 15 percent of tranche selects flagged for reshoot triggers a formal reshoot discussion; typical tranche has 1-3 percent reshoot rate.

7. Rights

Salt + Press holds first-print + first-digital rights worldwide for the Estrela cookbook. Term: from contract signing through 5 years post first publication date (Mar 16, 2027), so through Mar 16, 2032.

Jesse retains all other rights including: portfolio use, social media reposts after first publication, editorial reprint (with Salt + Press credit), gallery exhibition rights, and stock licensing rights for any non-cookbook commercial use.

Cross-promotional use: Salt + Press may use up to 10 selected images in promotional materials (publisher catalog, trade show booth, web preview, press kit) for the duration of the rights term, with Jesse credit on each use.

Foreign-language editions: any foreign-language edition (German, French, Spanish, Italian, Portuguese, etc.) is subject to a per-language uplift fee of $500 per language, payable on signing of the foreign-language contract.

Reversion: rights revert to Jesse on the 5-year-after-publication date or on out-of-print declaration by Salt + Press, whichever comes first.

8. Cancellation

Either party may cancel before tranche 2 acceptance with 30-day notice; paid milestones are non-refundable; future milestones are voided.

Cancellation after tranche 2 requires mutual consent. If Salt + Press cancels post-tranche-2 unilaterally, all remaining milestones ($4,000 + $3,000 = $7,000) are due immediately as a kill fee.

Force majeure: standard publishing-industry FM clause applies. Major production delays (printer plant fire, publisher acquisition, author illness) toll the delivery schedule proportionally without triggering cancellation.

Salt + Press Publishing, prepared by Rebecca Allenford, 2026-09-15. Revision v4 updates: clarified PayPal-rail commission carve-out (sec 3), added per-language foreign-edition uplift (sec 7), tightened tag taxonomy to dairy / dairy-free only (sec 4), added file naming convention strict spec (sec 1).
