Subject Holiday Celebration - Running Pledge Total (Nov 8)

Matt and Pastor David,

Sunday evening running total for the Holiday Celebration fund. I sat down after service with my notebook and reconciled against the church office deposits through Friday.

- Landed in the accounts: just over $4,100
- Pledged for the last two weeks of November: roughly $1,200 across email pledges and after-service commitments
- Combined pace: ahead of last year at this same point (last year we were around $3,400 by Nov 8)

I feel good about where we are. Our people usually come through in the last two weeks. I will have a final number ready for the December 8 council meeting.

Subject Notion pledge tracker - a few questions before Dec 8

Frank,

I was walking through the Notion tracker last night to prep for the council meeting and I noticed six rows marked as received where the notes column says "no Stripe record found" or "no PayPal record" or "nothing deposited." Those are PL-031 through PL-036. Are those actually cleared in the accounts or should they be sitting in a pending column?

I want to make sure we walk in Tuesday with numbers Pastor David can defend from the front.

Thanks, Linda

Linda,

When somebody tells me they have pledged and gives me a date I put it in the received column so we do not lose track of it. In my notebook I keep pledged-and-committed and received-and-cleared as one moving total since our people usually come through eventually. That has worked for me for eleven years on this committee. If the notation is causing confusion with the payment processor exports I can flag them differently in Notion.

Let me know what you need.

Frank,

Please move PL-031 through PL-036 to a pending column before the meeting so the received total matches what the processors actually cleared. Matt is going to have to reconcile against Stripe PayPal Square and the cash log Rosa keeps. It is much easier if the tracker is separated by then.

Linda

No reply from Frank on this thread as of December 5. The tracker rows PL-031 through PL-036 still show status "pending" but the PL-037 TOTAL row continues to include them in the $5,600 committee running total.

Thread C: DRAFT (Unsent) - Matt to Frank

From: matt.coleman@Finthesiss.ai To: Deacon Frank Herrera <f.herrera@email.com> Date: 2026-12-05 05:42 AM MST Status: SAVED IN GMAIL DRAFTS. NOT SENT. Subject: DRAFT - Reconciling pledge totals before Tuesday

Frank,

I have walked through Notion line by line against Stripe PayPal Square and the cash log Rosa keeps. The number I get for what has actually landed in the accounts is $4,850. The tracker total shows $5,600. The $750 gap lines up exactly with six pledges (PL-031 through PL-036 - the Whitfield Padilla Lam Orozco Morrison and Figueroa households) that show received in Notion but have no matching transaction in any of the three payment processors and no envelope in Rosa's log.

I know you have been counting pledged-and-committed as received because our people usually come through. I understand where that comes from. But I cannot walk into Tuesday's council meeting with a number I cannot back up against a Stripe report or a PayPal export or a deposit slip.

Before the meeting I need us to agree on one number. My preference is to present $4,850 landed and name the six outstanding pledges as still-pending so the council sees the picture honestly. If those donors come through in the next two weeks we update. If they do not we know exactly where the gap is and we can decide how to close it.

Can we sit down before Tuesday? I can come by Monday morning after prayer and my walk. Coffee is on me.

Matt

Draft context: Matt saved this to drafts at 5:42 AM Dec 5. He is still deciding whether to send it Monday morning before the coffee meeting, hold it and have the conversation in person, or discard it entirely and let Pastor David hear the reconciliation directly at the council meeting. As of Dec 5 evening the draft remains unsent.
