

Grand Rounds Abstract

Bicultural Care for Immigrant Families in Pediatric Practice.

Presenter: Linda Cruz, MD. Mount Sinai Pediatric Grand Rounds, December 15, 2026.

Abstract

Pediatric care for immigrant families is shaped as much by language access, trust, and cultural negotiation as by clinical guidelines. Drawing on four years of solo practice in a Medicaid-heavy Jackson Heights panel, this talk presents a practical framework for culturally responsive outpatient pediatrics: building trust in the first encounter, working with interpreter networks, navigating vaccine conversations across cultures, and treating access barriers as clinical problems. De-identified vignettes illustrate each point.

Objectives

- Describe how cultural context affects pediatric adherence and trust
- Apply language-access strategies beyond simple translation
- Approach vaccine hesitancy with cultural humility

All cases de-identified. No HIPAA-sensitive material presented.
